EDITORIAL NOTES.

A statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Irish Land League has been obtained from Patrick Egan, the Treasurer. For the fund proper there was contributed in Ireland through the Central League, including subscriptions from Irish people in England and Scotland, $94,840. The contributions from all sources in America up to date were $635,000, and from Australia, $19,250. Out of the total amount received by the Central League for all its charitable and political funds—say, $940,000—there was expended on the State trial defense $80,000, and the League has still in hand $295,000. The entire outlay by the Central League and the Ladies' Land League organization is set down at $565,000, or, including outlay of sustentation fund, $630,000. Of this sum of $565,000 it is stated that $90,000 has been expended since October 1 last.

The debt of the United States was reduced during the month of April by $14,415,823 74—in round numbers, fourteen and a half millions of dollars. During the ten months which have gone by since the opening of the fiscal year the total reduction of the debt has been $128,748,214. If the average reduction for these ten months be kept up for the two remaining months of the year, the total reduction will amount to about $155,000,000, and if the debt is reduced as much during the next two months, as it was during the last two, the total reduction will be over $160,000,000.

The Society of the Army of the Cumberland propose a popular contribution towards the erection in Washington of a statue of the late President Garfield, who was so conspicuous a member of that army. Contributions may be made through the Associated Press papers or sent directly to Lieutenant-General Sheridan at Chicago, or to H. C. Corbin, Assistant Adjutant-General U. S. A., Washington, D. C.

It is stated that eight new cases of smallpox broke out on board the English steamer Altenower, now lying at quarantine in San Francisco harbor. As it costs about $400 per day for her to lie there, her charterers will "loose money on the goods." She has one thousand Chinamen on board. Mr. Hoar's attention is called to this frivolous circumstance.

There are symptoms of strikes throughout the entire country; and many students of the labor problem fear another general movement among workmen such as occurred in 1877.

Powning has placed a chip upon his shoulder and invited C. N. Harris of the Index to knock it off. Blood may flow.

About the Assassination.

DUBLIN, May 15.

From information received, the assassins are still in the city. The conclusion is drawn that they are afraid if they should be separated one would turn traitor. At least 12 persons were engaged in the tragedy. It is believed that in the cab which stood near the scene of the murder and loitering under the trees were armed men ready to effect a rescue in case the actual assassins were surprised. The police have issued descriptions of the four men on the car. A car driver from Kingston, named Bolger, has been arrested at Moville. There is reason to believe that the assassins had intended to murder eight persons.

A VERY SLIGHT CLUE.

DUBLIN, May 15.

The police have discovered that the car in which the murderers escaped was hired by a stranger from a stable in the southern part of the city and was returned about 8 o'clock in the evening of the murder. They hope to be able to trace the driver.

A Crazy Man's Sport.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., 14.

At a farm-house in Sutter county this morning Jos. Hyer, a crazy man, fatally stabbed Napoleon Theodore, one of his watchmen, and then set fire to a granary. He then came to Marysville and was put under arrest. The fire destroyed the granary and damaged the house. Hyer has been crazy for several weeks.

Guiteau's Case—He Will be Hanged.

WASHINGTON, May 14.

There is a possibility that the Court in banc of the District of Columbia may decide the Guiteau case invalid and reverse the decision of the Court below. The Court in banc was in session five hours yesterday, considering the argument, and came to no conclusion. There are two points in question—that of jurisdiction and of error in the record in admitting the testimony of Mrs. Dunmire, Guiteau's divorced wife. The latter point is the principal one. The common law rule against allowing disclosures on the witness stand by either husband or wife, of the secrets of married life, is emphatic, and in the District of Columbia it is supplemented by a special Act prohibiting such testimony. The validity of this Act has been sustained by the Supreme Court. During the Guiteau trial Mrs. Dunmire was asked if she observed anything in the course of her five years' married life with Guiteau to indicate that he was insane. She replied in the negative. This question and answer is one on which the defense is to-night building its hopes of a favorable decision. The Government's attorneys claim that this question did not involve disclosures of marital secrets. Reed, Guiteau's counsel, claims that the answer to this question involved conclusions of observation during the married period, and was, therefore, improper.

GUITEAU WILL HANG.

The Post of Monday will have the following positive statement: Chief Justice Carter and Judges McArthur, Hagner and James held a consultation yesterday on the summing up of the argument of counsel in the application of Guiteau for a new hearing. The consultation lasted 4 hours and was marked by a most searching examination of authorities and most rigorous analysis of every point made in the arguments. The Judges were in thorough harmony all through, and in reaching a decision, not for one minute differing in general terms. The decision will be announced May 22. The decision affirms the sentence of the Court below, of course overruling the exceptions. This disposes of Guiteau's last chance. He will be hanged June 30, 1889.

Secretary Teller's Indian Policy.

NEW YORK, May 15.

A Herald's Washington special says: A gentleman for some time resident in Arizona said to your correspondent this evening, "If the Secretary actually disarms the Indians he will put an end to all Indian troubles. Whether he will succeed in doing it or not is, in my opinion, an open question. Indians and bad white men will all league together to defeat him. If he had power to hang traders who sell arms and ammunition to Indians, that would help him. But one thing is quite certain; if he can disarm the Indians on reservations he will save a good many lives of white men, women and children." In Arizona Indians were not only armed, but better armed than the troops last Fall, and as they choose their own time and place for attack, they managed to kill a good many people. Secretary Teller is carefully preparing to make some other changes in the Indian policy, looking in the direction of making the lives of white men in the Territories reasonably safe from Indian attacks. There is reason to believe that under his administration of Indian affairs some attention will be paid to the security of white settlers liable to Indian raids.

A Level-headed Freighter.

NEW YORK, May 15.

At St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church in Forty-first street last evening, Rev. C. J. Harrower, pastor, preached, taking for his discourse the question, "What shall we do with the Chinese?" He said: "It is the hour of vast monopolies in land, machinery, capital and franchises. The increase of population is something truly astonishing, and in twenty years our population will be equal to that of the Russian Empire. The effect of these conditions is observable upon diminishing marriage, the increase of vice, and of the pauper class, and in the sensitiveness of skilled labor as to its right. We must recognize the fact that no evil takes care of itself. I believe slavery, English supremacy in Ireland, Mormonism and intemperance, all confirm this fact. It is evident to my mind, then, that the importation of cheap labor of all sorts, and Chinese especially, must be restricted. We are not willing to make ourselves the Botany Bay of nations. What we must do is to distribute the Chinese. Imagine 300,000 Chinamen in this city to compete for street-cleaning, cigar-making, type-setting and other labor."

The Tariff Commission.

WASHINGTON, May 14.

The President said to a friend yesterday, that the most difficult appointments he had yet been called upon to make were members of the Tariff Commission. He appreciated the necessity for the immediate selection of the commissioners. It is believed the President has abandoned all idea of giving special interests a representation on the commission. There are only nine commissioners to be chosen, and it would be impossible, without making invidious distinctions, to select men representing special branches of industry. It is settled that a majority of the commission will be protectionists, probably of a moderate order. The chairman of the commission is likely to be ex-Secretary Kirkwood of Iowa. He favors a tariff for revenue only; but it is thought his general reputation for fairness and his identity with the agricultural interests of the west will make him a desirable member of the commission. It has been practically decided to make Edward Atkinson of Boston, the great authority on textiles, a member, although it is possible that a change may be made in New England representatives before the nominations are sent to the Senate. The South and Middle States, Northwest and probably the Southwest, will be represented, although the Middle States may get a proportion of the commissioners. The Pacific Coast will not, as your correspondent is at present advised, be represented on the commission.

A Man Who Wants to Freeze to Death.

NEW YORK, May 15.

Master Lucien Young of the Navy, who desires to go to the Arctic regions under the provisions of the Calkins bill, says his plan is entirely feasible, and will incur no special risk of life. He proposes to keep near the shore. He would make two depots for supplies in case of retreat, one on the western coast of Greenland and another further north at Lady Franklin Bay. He would then keep up the Greenland coast until he struck the northern limit of navigation, and stop, with his ship for a base of supplies. He would then send out parties on land, and if end of land was reached on the ice-pack, establish small depots. This would be done during Fall and Winter, so that next Spring the party could make a dash for the pole, following the line of depots left the Fall previous to insure protection against starvation, and enable them to travel unincumbered by stores. He has the opinion of various Arctic travelers that his plan is the most feasible devised so far for successful penetration of the polar regions. He expects to find a more moderate climate at the pole than for some distance to the south of it.

Desert Land Entries.

WASHINGTON, May 15.

The Committee on Public Lands reported favorably this morning on Senator Farley's bill to extend the time for making proof and payment on desert land entries. The bill provides that in all cases where declaration of intention to reclaim desert land has been filed, or may hereafter be filed, and satisfactory proof of reclamation of the land has not been made, or shall not hereafter be made within three years after filing declaration of intention, and failure to make proof is due to difficulty in getting water or great labor and expense in constructing irrigating ditches, or other cause not prejudicial to the validity of the entry or the good faith of the party making the same, the time for making proof and final payment is extended two years. Proof of good faith and intention in the application for extension must be made to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of the Land Office, under regulations he must prescribe.

An Inquisitive Congressman.

WASHINGTON, May 15.

In the House, Robinson offered a resolution requesting the President to inform the House whether certain official papers recently published regarding the imprisonment of American citizens in British prisons have been received at the State Department, and what answer has been given thereto.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark., May 14.

Hon. C. Washburne, ex-Member of Congress and ex-Governor of Wisconsin, died here at 5:30 this afternoon of paralysis and Bright's disease.

A Warning to Sabbath-Breakers.

CHICAGO, May 15.

A Pullman special says: At 7 o'clock Sunday night a sailing boat with eight persons capsized on Lake Calumet and all were drowned. It was a pleasure craft, and the party on board consisted of Captain Bucklen, an old sea captain, and his two sons of 17 and 12 years, John Smith, foreman in the car depot, and four unknown men. They went out for pleasure against the warnings of friends. A large number of persons witnessed the capsizing, which occurred about a mile out, and a scene of terror ensued. Three boats were sent to the rescue, but though they got within hailing distance, the water was so rough that all those they intended to rescue went down and they themselves narrowly escaped. The bodies of Smith and one of the Bucklen boys were recovered.

FURTHER PARTICULARS

Received from Pullman says that the boat was half way across the lake when a fierce squall overturned it. The stormy water prevented the rescuing boats from reaching the men, who could be plainly seen clinging to their overturned boat. The would-be rescuers, after a gallant attempt to save the drowning men, and after having a narrow escape from capsizing themselves, were compelled to put into shore, and the victims of the accident gradually loosened their hold and sank beneath the waves. So far as it can be learned all were drowned. Following are the names of those in the boat: Napoleon Bucklen, aged 50; his two sons, Ben and James Bucklen; John L. Smith, aged 28; Chas. F. Pierce, 46; H. I. Moore, 38; W. O. Burns, 22; a young man named Foster; a man named Davis, 45 years; and three other men whose names could not be ascertained. All the men worked at Pullman and are well known. The sad fate creates much excitement, and the shore of the lake is crowded with anxious people awaiting the recovery of the bodies. The bodies of Ben Bucklen and Smith have been recovered. Boats are now dragging for the others. Bucklen leaves a wife and five daughters. Smith leaves a wife and child, and Oliver also leaves a wife. Pierce and Moore were carpenters from Blissfield, Michigan, and each leaves a family there. Bucklen was an old sea captain and is well known in the East, and thoroughly understood the handling of a boat; but why the party should have ventured out on the lake in the storm which was raging is a mystery to every one.

The New Grain Exchange.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.

The San Francisco Grain Exchange, an offshoot of the Board of Brokers, opened formally at one o'clock. There was a good attendance but little attempt to do business. The chairman made a speech stating the object of the Exchange. A few sales were then made in a lively way and the Exchange adjourned. The opening seems to promise brisk business.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.

Dr. H. H. Hubbard, late Surgeon-General of the Confederate Army, died here this morning, aged 55 years.

Farnell's Platform.

LONDON, May 15.

In the Commons, Farnell read a letter he wrote to O'Shea, Home Rule member for the County Clare, before his release, and which is to the effect that reforms of land in regard to arrears of rent, purchase and leases, are necessary, and that on completion thereof the Land League would do all possible to suppress out-rages in Ireland. Forster asked that the whole letter be read. O'Shea then read a paragraph omitted by Farnell, stating if the reforms specified were made, the Land Leagues might act cordially with Liberals in support of Liberal principles. The reading was received with cheers from the opposition benches.

RENO FOUNDRY.

The Proprietor of the Virginia Foundry, having purchased the Reno Foundry, and consolidated it with the former, will hereafter style the works
The Reno Foundry and Machine Works.

This establishment is now prepared to do a general Foundry Business, including every description of Castings in Iron and Brass, Forging, and Machine Work, at lower prices than can be obtained elsewhere. Drawings and estimates furnished when required.

By strict attention to business and with a thorough knowledge of the work required, the proprietor hopes to merit the confidence of the trade and respectfully solicits the patronage of mill and mining men.
